- Guru Gobind Singh – Finalised the Sikh scriptures and founded the khalsa in 1699. The Khalsa are a dedicated religious group that Sikhs can join.
All Gurus achieved liberation (mukti).

The story of Guru Nanak

Guru Nanak was the first Guru of the Sikhs. Although he was born into a Hindu family he didn’t want to be tied to the Hindu faith. Even at the age of 13, he refused to take the Sacred Thread ceremony, which was the most important ceremony for Hindu boys. His best friend Mardana, was a Muslim.

When Nanak was 30 years old (1499), he went to bathe in a river and disappeared. Many thought he was dead but he returned three days later. When he reappeared in the same spot where he disappeared, his face was said to have had a special glow. His first words were: ‘There is no Hindu, there is no Muslim’. He said there was one true God. He claimed he had been taken into the presence of God. He said he had been given direct knowledge about God, life and reality.

Nanak had achieved liberation (mukti). He gave away all his possessions to the poor. He travelled over 30,000 miles to spread the message.

Sikh’s three duties:

1. Nam Simran -meditation on God’s name.
2. Kirat karna - hard work
3. Vand chhakna – sharing and charitable giving.

In Sikhism, God is called the Real Guru.

The Sikh path of life

Do not be self-centred (manmukh) but be God-centred (gurmukh). Overcome the ego (haumai) by living according to the will of God (hukam). This will enable a person to escape from the cycle of life, death and rebirth (samsara) and achieve liberation (mukti).
